PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Deuce Figaretti is a Digital Media Design student focused on video production and filmmaking. He first discovered his passion for visual storytelling while volunteering at his church, where working with a camera sparked an interest in using media to communicate ideas, inspire others, and build community. Since then, he has continued developing his skills through both coursework and hands-on projects.

His work spans a variety of formats, including short documentaries, comedy sketches, and a proof-of-concept for a travel show, though he is especially drawn to narrative and cinematic storytelling. As he continues to refine his abilities in filming, editing, and visual design, Deuce aims to pursue a career in the film industry where he can collaborate with other creatives and produce stories that entertain, inspire, and connect audiences.
